Operation Fort Sint Pieter is a nerve-racking and active team building programme in a centuries-old fort. This game requires teamwork, agility, and a good dose of perseverance.

You and your team must look for as many keys as you can in the labyrinth of dark passageways with multiple floors and staircases. The location of the keys can be found by completing various tasks. You'll not only test your strategic skills but also your team spirit, your ability to make decisions, and your perseverance. You then play the final game with as many keys as possible. The time factor and the number of keys acquired are critical for winning the competition.

Are you ready to take on the challenge to win the much-coveted treasure of Fort St. Pieter?
